The News.

We have highly interesting news from the South this evening. General Sherman arrived in front of Savannah on Saturday last, where he fought a severely contested battle which lasted nearly the entire day. The rebels were driven from the field and retreated behind their works which are represented as being very strong. Our loss is set down at 2,500 and that of the rebels at 3,000 or 4,000. Beauregard, Smith, Hardee and Cobb were in command of the rebel forces.

The last word left Sherman close to the coast, either able to form a junction with Foster and the fleet, or to attack Savannah with prospects of success.

The St. Albans raiders, on trial at Montreal, have been discharged for want of jurisdiction on the part of the court. We supposed the Canucks would manage some way to screen the rascals.

Grant's army, as will be seen, is not entirely idle, but is taking measures to make provisions still more scarce in Richmond. The situation at Nashville is unchanged. Sheridan is quiet.

Gold closed at 233 1/2.

A Little Ahead.

We find no fault with persons who prefer to patronize the Chicago papers in preference to the Gazette, because we recognize the perfect right of every man to purchase such newspapers as he likes; and we simply wish here to call attention to the fact that our readers this evening have the news of Sherman's operations about twenty hours in advance of those who depend upon Chicago for their news, as none of those papers contain a word of Sherman's battle on Saturday last. We have not alluded to this in a boasting spirit, but it is a fact that we have beaten them in every important instance, since General Grant's army crossed the Rapidan last spring.

State News.

The citizens of Madison had a hull on the eight last, for the benefit of the families of soldiers, and realized $326.71. The Richland County Observer says the County Board fixed the salary of Treasurer and Clerk of the Board at $800 each, District Attorney $500, and Clerk of the Court $75. The County tax for the year was fixed at five mills on the dollar, making $5,792.11. The State Tax is $5,936.88. The School Tax is $107.4, besides $400 for County Superintendent's salary.

The Mineral Point Tribune says Messrs. Squires & Branger have struck a lead mine on Col. Jones' land, out of which, in ten days, they took from 15,000 to 20,000 pounds of lead ore, with plenty more in sight, the diggings growing better as they are worked. Colonel Cobb made a brief visit home before going to Washington. The County Board fixed the salary of the County Treasurer at $1,500; Clerk of the Board, $1,000; District Attorney, $1,000. The county tax is four mills on the dollar, making $10,613.46, the State tax $14,151.31, County and school tax, including the amount for Superintendent's salary and expenses, $3,863.28.

The Fond du Lac Reporter says a pair of gray horses and a set of brass trimmed harnesses were stolen from the premises of Hiram Squire, in the town of Adair, last Sunday morning; also a new Democrat buggy was stolen by the same thieves, from the premises of E. Nickerson, of the same place and date. They offer two hundred dollars for the recovery of the property and another hundred for the arrest of the thieves.

The Prairie du Chien Union records a singular surgical operation performed on the limb of a young daughter of Mr. James Hunter, of Eastman. The child had been sick for a month with a disease which proved to be decaying of the bone from the knee to the ankle of one of her limbs. The bone had to be scraped. This was so successfully done that the child is doing finely.

We have received another communication from "Labor" in defence of his opinions as to what persons in society are the best educated; but as it is simply a rehash of his former article upon the same subject, we do not publish it. In his view of the matter, a well broke, hard working horse, because useful, is better "educated" than a graduate of college, unless said graduate gains his livelihood by the severest toil in the lowest stratum among the working classes.

It was said of Burke that he chose his side like a fanatic, but defended it like a philosopher. Our correspondent rivals Burke in taking sides, but there the parallel ceases.

We shall print, to-morrow, "Labor's" reply to "A working man."

A PROFITABLE BUSINESS.—The New York Journal of Commerce asserts that more money has been made by the authors of school books within the last 25 years than all the novelists in England and America combined, and perhaps more than by all other bookmakers in addition.

A COMPANY is organized in Philadelphia, to convert coal dust, which can be purchased for forty cents per ton, into fuel which can be sold for five dollars per ton.

Four newspapers in Maine, the Bath Courier, Augusta Age, Farmington Patriot and Belfast Journal, have all given up the ghost with the copperhead party.

The only Paper Published in Jamesville

A few Words about the XXI. Vol.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE will soon enter upon its twenty-first volume. It begins the new year with the largest subscription list ever before obtained by this or any other paper published in southern Wisconsin, and its opportunities and responsibilities have correspondingly increased. As in the past, so in the future, the GAZETTE will be known of all men as the steadfast friend of Liberty, Equality and public Justice, and as the uncompromising foe of every species of slavery that self-interest seeks to entail upon the race. Its editors will strive to make it radically right upon all those great questions, political and social, that now engross so much of the public attention; and while it will not be a partisan sheet that shall be blind to the faults of its own party, it will nevertheless give a hearty and energetic support to the Union cause and to the principles which have been adopted as the policy of Mr. Lincoln's Administration. Those who have read it during the exciting campaign through which we have so triumphantly passed, can need no assurances as to what will be its future course.

As a local paper, stimulating and refreshing the business, thrift and enterprise of the best country in the State, we shall labor unceasingly to make it better than it ever has been before. We copy below a few of the many complimentary

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—

13.—To Major General Dix.—The Richmond papers of to-day contain the following:

The Richmond Dispatch says Sherman is near Savannah, probably not five miles distant. He has not yet made an attack. It is still doubtful whether he will do so, or make for the coast southeast of the city. It is very certain he has not yet opened communication with the coast, although he may do so very soon.

LATER.—A telegram from below Charleston states that Sherman was in line of battle, we will not say where, confronted by a strong Confederate force.

Another paper says there has been no direct communication with Savannah for several days, but we apprehend the wires have been cut between that place and Charleston.

U. S. GRANT. (Signed.) The severity of the weather has prevented any important movements by either side at Nashville. Nothing of importance is reported from the armies of the Potomac or of the Shenandoah.

E. M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

FROM THE SOUTH.

New York, Dec. 13.—The Augusta Sentinel of the 14th says his advances in reference to Sherman's movements are very meagre. On the 6th inst., the advance was reported to be at a station twenty-five miles from Savannah. They were pressing vigorously towards Savannah and we have no doubt that a decisive battle between the raiders and the patriot forces, has taken place, the result of which we may be enabled to announce this afternoon.

The Richmond Examiner of the 10th says there is no news later than the 7th. At that time the entire force of Sherman was combined on the east side of the Ogeechee and it advanced no less than 18 miles. His men were represented as much fatigued and their spirits flagging, in numbers they were estimated at 20,000 muskets and a most enormous wagon train. The country in his rear was swarming with stragglers and deserters who are begging or pillaging at every house. Citizens who have talked with the troops condemn the declaration that they are unusually disgusted with the expedition and the war. The officers spoke very freely of Sherman's plans. They said he would not risk an engagement if he could help it, because he had no ammunition to spare, but would make his way to the sea coast at the nearest practicable point. The enemy had 300 or 400 negroes with them. They had no arms but were merely camp followers stopping at every house and taking their property and stopping to be replenished by others. No attention is now paid to the general order of Sherman issued at the beginning of the march, and the whole country has been pillaged by parties of soldiers without officers. Wheeler is operating on the confused mass at every step.

The Augusta Constitutionalist says on Monday last a fight took place at Walker's bridge on Breck Creek, twenty-two miles from Augusta, in which the Federalists were worsted. A band of 123 Yankee prisoners had arrived in Augusta.

Baltimore, December 13.—The Charleston Mercury of the 10th contains the following: We have received no definite intelligence of any further fighting on the coast. We hear however that the enemy is very active in this quarter. His next move is expected to be made against Coosawatchie, while by feints at Pocotaligo and Grapeland he will endeavor to divide our force and distract the attention of our officers.

New York, Dec. 14.—The World's Washington special says an account of a battle in front of Savannah on Saturday the 10th, which he says comes direct from a loyal resident of Richmond. He says 20,000 of Sherman's men at one early hour crossed the Ogeechee river at Bloomingdale some twelve miles south of Savannah and muscled between that point and Telfair, the left wing extended so as to cut the Charleston and Savannah railroad. Communication had been effected the preceding day with Foster, who was again rapidly advancing from his strong positions south of Pocotaligo's bridge, and evidently alarmed at finding themselves threatened both in front and rear by the superior forces of Sherman who was on the field, and found himself confronted by a large force of regulars and militia entrenched.

The battle began early in the day and was contested with great fury on both sides, the garrison of Savannah numbering 12,000 veterans, participating. Toward noon a grand charge was made by the Union troops which carried some of the works on the enemy's left and center and threatening to cut him off from the inlet and the city. This was followed by an advance of the whole line which doubled up the rebel formation in confusion and they fell back to the immediate vicinity of the works in the rear of Savannah. Our troops pursued them to Telfair on the south and a corresponding distance along the upper Railroad. Finding the enemy's works very strong, our troops rested here being worn out by a heavy march the previous night and the severe fighting. The loss was severe on both sides; 2,500 Union and between 3,000 and 4,000 rebels, among whom were fully 1,200 prisoners including many officers of rank. Colors, cannon, small arms, wagons and caissons were captured. Smith, Hardee and Cobb were in command of the rebels whose loss at first was less than ours, owing to their protection, but at the close of the action they suffered tremendously. It is believed that all the rebels at the head of the inlet, 4,000 or 5,000, would be captured.

The facts, says the World's correspondent, have been carefully concealed by the rebel authorities.

The greatest consternation prevailed at Charleston.

The word was left Sherman close to the coast, either able to form a junction with Foster and the fleet, or to attack Savannah with prospects of success.

New York, Dec. 13.—Richmond papers report Sherman moving on in close proximity to Savannah. Beauregard commands the defenses of the city, assisted by Hardee, Smith, and probably Taylor. Rebel papers say battles may be progressing to-day and express themselves confident of success. Bragg was at Augusta at last accounts. Passengers by mail boat to-day report heavy firing yesterday morning in the direction of Dutch Gap Canal.

FROM GRANT'S ARMY.

New York, Dec. 13.—The Herald's dispatch from Grant's army gives additional particulars of the reconnaissance which Gen. Miles commanded, on Friday last, to Hardee's Run on the right of the rebel forces defending Petersburg. After capturing the rebel works Gen. Miles' men held them throughout the night. Their object being accomplished, they were preparing to return to the Army of the Potomac the next morning, when a furious charge was made upon them by the rebels who were repulsed and in turn charged upon and driven some distance. After this, the Union troops returned to their old camp which they reached Saturday evening. Their casualties were slight. A number of rebels were captured.

very strong and almost impassable nature, with large piles driven into the earth some eight feet below the surface of the water. It will require skill and daring to overcome those rebel means of defence. It is said that there are no less than 4 or 5 blockade runners at Mobile all ready waiting to escape.

FROM WASHINGTON.

New York, Dec. 13.—The Commercial Washington dispatch says of Gen. Warren's expedition and the destruction inflicted on the Weldon Railroad, that there is no doubt that the loss of this important avenue of communication will result in great inconvenience to Lee and possibly may lead to the evacuation of Petersburg. He is now dependent upon the south side of the road for supplies.

The Post's Washington special says Gen. Banks testified in the Louisiana election case to-day. He says that the election was fair and that voters generally participated.

Admiral Farragut's flag-ship with the Admiral on board, arrived in the lower bay this morning and subsequently came up to the city and was saluted.

THE WAR IN TENNESSEE.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 13.—Capt. Bridgewater with 125 men, went into New Castle to-day and drove out Jesse, with a loss to the latter of twelve killed and wounded. Bridgewater chased them through Port Royal and was only eight minutes behind at that place. It is thought the rebels would be captured by Bridgewater's forces. Col. Johnson telegraphs that the rebel Gen. Lyon's advance is moving on Russellville. His main force, 2,500 strong, is at Elberton.

NASHVILLE, December 13.—Reports confirm the success of Rosecrans' troops under Milroy. Bates' division is within 20 miles of Murfreesboro.

FROM CANADA.

Toronto, Dec. 13.—In the case of the St. Albans raiders, tried at Montreal to-day, the Judge decided to have no jurisdiction and the prisoners were discharged. There was much excitement.

Montreal, Dec. 14.—The St. Albans raiders left the city almost immediately after being discharged. Authorities are taking steps to re-arrest them.

FROM NEW YORK.

New York, Dec. 13.—The bulls attempted to break the monopoly of the gold market by a rumor that Butler had been defeated, but the effect of the rumor was scarcely felt. In the afternoon the market was weaker and declined.

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE

Letter from the Federal Capital.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9, 1864.
 Editors Gazette.—Of what to write, and how to write it, is often a very perplexing question to correspondents. In those good old days when telegraphs and railroads were unknown, the correspondent could give the news; but now it is useless, for the telegraph outruns him. Even if he undertakes to foreshadow events to take place, he finds his vocation gone, for the omnipresent lightning has outstripped him again. What field then is there for him? None, save that of describing things as they appear about him, discussing and criticizing the acts of men, and examining measures proposed, pointing out their merits and demerits, and also that of suggesting improvements.

Where is Sherman, a question that is anxiously asked all over the country at this particular time, for it is now about time that he should make his appearance somewhere on the coast. From all that can be gleaned from the rebel press, I am unable to see that they have offered him any serious molestation. That they have captured a few of his men is most likely, for he was completely surrounded by foraging parties and scouts, and it would be surprising if some of them were not captured. In reality, the rebels seem to be as anxious to know where he is, as do his friends. We are strong in the belief here, that he will come out all right.

The situation around Nashville causes some little anxiety. All have strong faith in the gallant Thomas, but we are anxious for developments. The rumor that Rosecrans was going up the Tennessee river with strong reinforcements to strike in Hood's rear, does not seem to be confirmed. Yet, Rosecrans has been relieved of his command in Missouri, and it is believed that he is to be restored to active service somewhere, for he is too able a General to long remain idle.

When will old Thad. Stevens learn wisdom? One of his first movements upon the assembling of Congress, was to commence tinkering at the gold question. The result was immediately made manifest. The gold gamblers of New York laughed at him and sent gold up. The gold question will defy all the efforts of legislators. To-day, gold is as much an article of merchandise as cotton or wheat. The product of our mines cannot be less than $100,000,000 per annum. It is the product of labor and capital directly applied to its production, as is wheat, cotton or iron, and should be treated as such. It is true, that between this and other countries, it serves as a medium of exchange with which to settle the balance of trade against us. This is all that gives it its fictitious value. How, then, shall we break down this fictitious value? By penal laws? No; they will prove futile and useless. If a people have a vice, tax it. People will use whiskey and tobacco. It is a useless habit—a vice, in reality, and it will bear heavy, very heavy taxation. Gold gambling is a vicious habit, though like other gambling, it may prove profitable to some who indulge in it, and profitable or not, it should be taxed heavily. Then again, by shaping the legislation of the country so as to tax heavily all luxuries imported from abroad, we can derive a large revenue from those able to indulge in luxuries and thus able to pay taxes, and possibly we may lessen the consumption of luxuries and thus less export, of course our wheat, oil, cotton and other products will serve as a basis of exchange, and gold will lose nearly all its fictitious value, for then it would have no value beyond its intrinsic value for jewelry, save so far as it is needed to pay the duties on our imports at the Custom House.

The President's Message seems to give almost universal satisfaction. It is a vigorous, terse, noble and manly document; full of backbone. An old Democrat said to me yesterday, that it was an admirable document—one which would make the Administration many friends.

The report of Secretary Fessenden is a very lengthy document, but it will richly repay the reader for a careful perusal. It gives a resume of the financial operations of the Treasury Department, from the commencement of the rebellion to the present time. The Secretary shows that we shall be able to conduct the war until July 1865, and then only be in debt $2,500,000,000, and this, with Mr. Lincoln's exposition of the resources of the country as to men, shows that we will be abundantly able to cope with the rebellion for years yet. This will not be gratifying to rebels.

There is one question, however, that seems to demand particular attention. The ability of the Government to issue bonds with the interest payable in gold, is about exhausted. The receipts in gold from customs are $70,000,000, while the amount required to pay interest in gold is near $60,000,000. This state of things, it is hoped, will force Congress to take some steps towards deriving a revenue from the gold mines of the country. The easiest mode seems to be to require a license for the privilege of making claims on mineral lands, and to exact a percentage on all gold and silver produced. It is evident that something should be done in the premises; Congress should shrink the question no longer.

The Agricultural Report for 1863 is now being distributed. Each member and senator has about 600 copies for distribution. The number ought to be larger for the Report is really a very valuable document. Having copies of these Reports from 1847 to 1863, I have no hesitation in saying that the last one is the best one ever issued. It is a document of near 700 pages, well printed on good paper, and is replete with valuable information, and should be in the hands of every reading cultivator of the soil.

I think Congress ought to establish a new Department, to be called the Department of Industry. There are several Bureaus, now connected with other departments, that might be and should be collected under one head, such as the Census Bureau for the collection of statistics, the Agricultural Bureau (now independent), and the Bureau of Emigration. Then there should be a Bureau having in charge the interests of the Freedmen—another relating solely to the development of the mineral wealth of the country—one also relating to the manufacturing interests, and possibly one having in charge the commercial interests. We shall emerge from this war a free people, but heavily burdened with debt. We shall need to develop our resources for the production of wealth to their utmost extent and capacity. It has always been our policy to invite hither, the artisan of other lands, and now more than ever we shall need their labor to dig in our mines, open new farms, and to help fill up the wasted South and regenerate it. There is room for millions to come and help pay our taxes and enjoy the blessings of freedom on their reward.

What then is our duty? Is it not plain that we should gather the statistics showing our varied resources, and spread them broadcast before the longing millions of Europe, thus quickening their impulses to cast their lots with us. Then again, the effect will be almost magical at home. Knowledge is power and wealth. The Yankee mind is quick to seize upon advantages, and the statistics easily broadcast throughout our own land, will incite a great many to try their fortunes in new fields for effort. Who can tell how much improvement has resulted to our agriculture, from the scattering of Agricultural Reports through the country? How many trees have been set out, vines planted, &c., simply from the impulses given from even a casual reading of one of these books. None can tell. That the cost has been refunded to the Government tenfold; I have not the least doubt. A casual reading of a part of an agricultural paper, wrapped around a few pounds of sugar, changed the whole mode of conducting his farming operations, in the case of an ordinary farmer in Michigan; and he afterwards became one of the best, most thorough and successful farmers in that State. So, the seed broadcast, then diffuse the statistics, ideas, knowledge and information with a liberal hand.

Speaking of gathering statistics, reminds me that some of the clerks are very busy just now at this work. The impression is very prevalent, that a large proportion of the Government employees here, are single men, and that, therefore, they can live easily on their salaries, notwithstanding the prevalent high prices. Out of 137 clerks in the Pension Office, 100 are married or have parents &c. dependent on them for support. In the Land Office, out of 119 employees, 111 are married or have to support parents or brothers and sisters. The result in these two offices shows that 11 out of every 13 have to support families. On the other hand, statistics compiled showing the prices of articles of necessity in household use in 1859-60 as compared with 1863-4, shows an increase in prices of from 150 to over 400 per cent. It is becoming almost impossible to live here at present salaries. The increase in one year has been on many articles, nearly 100 per cent. The result is, many of the more valuable clerks are resigning, and many more will resign unless relief comes from some source or other. Among the resignations lately, from this cause, is C. S. Bundy, formerly of Dunn county Wis. Mr. Bundy has been, for the last three years in the Paymaster General's Office and has acquired much valuable experience as to the settlement of accounts of soldiers and others connected with the army. He has opened an office here for the prosecution of claims, and as he is a brother editor, I bespeak for him the kind wishes of the fraternity in Wisconsin. He is a perfectly reliable man, and persons having business to entrust to claim agents here, will do well to patronize him.

The Money Order Office is getting into working trim. The returns from 130 offices for the first four weeks ending Nov. 20, show that 5499 orders were issued, calling for $110,010.02, and that 3,757 of those orders had been paid, covering $60,515.73, leaving 742 orders unpaid, and $44,394.29 undrawn. The fees on these orders amounted to $836.90.

The Chattanooga Office issued during its third week 267 orders for $7,145. A few offices are delinquent in making their returns. This system will try severely the business capacity of many of the Postmasters throughout the country.

Developments are now being made which show that the changes recently made in the auditor and chief clerkship of the Gt. Auditor's office were not made a day too soon. Defalcations to the amount of $6000 to $7000 have been discovered and things look equally for the reputation of the late incumbents. Much credit is due C. B. Holden for his energy in ferreting out the rascals in existence there and for the energy with which he followed up the late Chief Clerk, and procured his removal.

The object is a worthy one, and we hope our citizens will aid the Company in carrying it into effect.

CHARLES OAK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

The advertisement of this stable old company appears in another column, and will naturally attract the attention of readers. Among the many companies doing a kindred business this one takes a high place. Its plan of insurance is both stock and mutual, the capital of the former branch being $200,000. The plans of insuring are four—1st, with profits; 2d, without profits; 3d, endowment and 4th, non-forfeiture. The rates on the first are those usual to mutual companies; on the second they are the lowest that can be adopted, consistent with the safety of the company; on the third, the advantages of Life Insurance are combined with those of a savings bank; on the fourth, the only plausible objection heretofore urged against Life Insurance is removed, and the principle of protection to the assured under all circumstances, is fully carried out. It is optional with the assured whether they receive full profits during the 10 years, or allow their dividends to operate as an annuity during the whole life.

The fellows who attempted to fire the

A clever, practical joke was that of Mr.

Lowe, the "misanthrope," when in a recent ascription in the vicinity of Philadelphia, he dropped a straw image of a man from his balloon at a height of a mile and a half. The inhabitants of the region, who were of course, eagerly watching the balloon, rushed from all quarters to the spot where the figure fell, and were doubtless greatly disappointed to find something less horrible than they expected.

New Music.—Wilson has just received

Hoffman's new pieces; also "Wake Nodomas," by H. C. Work—one of the finest things we have heard in many a day; and "Don't be Sorrowful, Darling," by Webster, a fine thing.

EDITORS GAZETTE.—In your issue of last evening I notice a false statement made by J. L. Darling in regard to pianos, which I wish to correct. The Knabe Pianos took the first premium and diploma, as best parlor piano at the State Fair held in this city, and there was no second premium offered or awarded.

D. D. WILSON, agent for Knabe Pianos.

FALSE DELICACY.—The friends of those who are troubled with bad breath, and through over-squeamishness, dislike to refer to it, commit a positive and cruel mistake, especially if they are aware of the merits and great efficiency of the Eminent Sorensen. This is the true and only remedy for the difficulty; there is no valid excuse for a bad breath now.

ON ALL sides we hear the merits of the Graver & Bakers Sewing-Machine extolled. The ladies declare it the "very best," and prove it to us in so many undeniable facts that we are bound to confess our conviction of the truth of the declaration. What other machine will embroider so beautifully, braid so elegantly, hem so faultlessly, quilt so evenly, stitch so accurately, gather so regularly, operate so easily? None, we conscientiously affirm. dec14dw140.

AN INDICATION THAT THE REBELLION IS

ABOUT USED UP, AND THAT THE WAR WILL SOON END.—This indication consists in the high price paid for "Greenbacks" at Overton's Clothing Store opposite the Hyatt House in Janesville.

You have only to call and examine his goods, and inquire the prices in order to be satisfied that you can get more value for your "Greenbacks" there than anywhere else. Call and be convinced. A few Other Caps and Beaver Caps and Fur Collars for sale cheap. dec14dw141.

DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUSNESS, AND DEBILITY.

DR. STRICKLAND'S TONIC.—We can recommend those suffering with Loss of Appetite, Indigestion, or Dyspepsia, Nervousness and Nervous Debility, to use Strickland's Tonic. It is a vegetable preparation, free from alcoholic liquors; it strengthens the whole nervous system; it creates a good appetite, and is warranted to cure Dyspepsia and Nervous Debility.

For sale by Druggists generally at $1 per bottle. Prepared by Dr. A. Strickland, 6 East Fourth street, Cincinnati, O.

E. F. Colwell Wholesale agent for Wisconsin. aug23dw147.

SEWING-MACHINES.—No article of household use is so much desired as a sewing-machine. So rapidly has this invention grown into public favor, that it is now considered almost indispensable to every family. Over a hundred thousand families already experience its benefits, and each week adds nearly another thousand to the list, and so the ratio of the demand increases in proportion as the advantages of the invention become known. The sewing-machine of the present day is not, however, the sewing-machine of some years back. Though retaining the first principles, many and valuable improvements have been added, and various modifications and alterations of machinery found necessary to increase the speed and efficiency, render it more simple and noiseless, and adapt it to all the different requirements of the family and the workshop. The Grover & Baker Sewing-Machine Company, among the first to produce a practical sewing-machine, have been the most successful in attaining these results. Their machines are now to be found in almost every part of the world.—American Agriculturist.

DIED.

CLARA MAY HUGHES died Dec. 10th, 1884, at 10 o'clock a. m., aged 10 years and 1 month.

Those who possess true honesty are not likely to be found in this world that, when it is depicted as so rich a jewel, it should be made aware of the fact.

It is from the following reason that we feel constrained to inform mankind that in the death of Clara Hughes, which occurred on the 10th of Dec., 1884, it is not a passing misfortune, but a permanent loss to the community.

Notwithstanding her youthfulness she stood first in one of the highest classes in our school (School No. 1, town of Janesville) by her gentle and self-denying spirit she gained the esteem of all with whom she was acquainted; she would not permit herself to commit an act that she deemed to be wrong; and she was one of those pure and gentle spirits which God and angels must delight in and which renders Heaven so attractive.

As she was leaving this world and entering the most happy state, she exclaimed "Splendid! splendid!" When asked what was splendid, she said "Up there, where all friends are." She then reached out her arms saying that was going to her father, who had died some two years before, and breathed his last.

Clara thus lost to roam in realms of endless light: "Thy soul could not remain in this dark world of night. Clearly now thine eyes are free: That splendid, splendid sight: Thy father holds her in his arms, A shining angel bright." By her teacher, D. DAVIS.

PORTER'S

"Photograph Parlors."

This has now become one of the fixed institutions of Janesville. The unbounded success which has attended the efforts of this establishment, has more than met our most sanguine expectations, and a new "bill" seems to be demanded.

Extending thanks to the entire community for

bestowed upon this institution, and the just appreciation given to our

WORKS OF ART

We collect even a larger patronage to enable us by an increase of business to keep the prices of Pictures Within the Reach of All.

For be it known that, despite that person who thinks pictures are high-priced, good pictures are the cheapest commodity in life.

We shall arrive at the point where we cannot promise always to do it. But we will promise always to give you a good, life-like picture, and it will be the least possible trouble to the artist.

STEREOSCOPES

and Stereoscopic views of local scenes for sale at three prices. We are also prepared to take Stereoscopic pictures of single objects or groups.
